groom bestows on the fairest of his choice.

Mr. Louis Titus, however claims distinction, having at his wedding to Miss Alice Rooney lavished such gifts upon her as "several strings of pearls, a diamond watch, several diamond rings and a limousine car!"

COMPONERE LITES.

(By E. S. Goodhue, M. D., Honolulu, Hawaii.)

The devious ways of men are fraught with danger. A casual bell lurks in every breeze; And whose wills, from king to humble granger, May think he's damaged by a guileless sneeze.

A kiss—a court—the marriage of true lovers; Even a tumble down the cellar stairs: A smile, a frown, o'er everything there hovers, The litigation microbe unawares.

To settle disputes! rather to unearth them By mulling methods where all things are grist; By "law's delays," and that time-sanctioned system Of pounding matters with a legal fist.

Just file your suit and set the wheels in motion, No matter what your cause is,—fight

It out; Some legal subterfuge as subtle position Will narcotize your juryman, no doubt!

These twelve wise men who sit like owls at midday, Blinking and nodding in forensic glare; Losing all sight of JUSTICE in the by-play Of wordy incandescence in the air.

Though courting always is uncertain business— And costly, too, whether you lose or win— The man afflicted with this sort of dizziness Keeps on his course until he's taken in.

There's something like the taste of wine in lawing, It grows on one like other games of chance; Then there's the opportunity for jawing Not equalled in the ancient courts of France.

Law me! can't be helped, I s'pose, while matters Have more than one side to be viewed upon; While clever lawyers, tearing facts to tatters, Get what they're after when the lots are drawn!

Appreciation.

TO THE PUBLIC:—We wish at this time to express our appreciation to the Island public for the confidence reposed in us, as manifested by the large number of purchases of the motor cars we deal in. Altogether in the past we have handled some ten different makes of cars; we now handle only three.

There is a reason for this.

To handle any new make that was produced seemed to us too much like "trying it on the dog"—with the public as the dog.

Our policy was to study the situation carefully, gauge local conditions and then consult the best automobile authorities in America—with the result that we represent today

These three great makes represent a combination of best practice in automobile construction, with the widest choice of body types and prices. The manufacturers of these three great makes are the leaders in the industry.

By handling only these three great makes we can do justice both to the public and the manufacturers.

There are from five to eight thousand different parts in an automobile—multiply this by ten, and the number is enormous. Few dealers if any could keep even the necessary parts of ten makes to provide against inevitable accident, but with three it is different.

We wish our name to be synonymous with the Evidence of unusual admiration of a groom for his bride is revealed in a recent issue of a San Francisco daily, where in the columns of society a description of gifts at a certain notable wedding was given.

One gift is usually the offering along with his heart and home that a bride-
